Hayden-Ford Mill building on tap for tavern

Plans to open a brewery and restaurant inside the historic Hayden-Ford Mill building are still moving forward, with the City of Tecumseh's Economic Development Director working with the project's partners to pave the way.

John Burtka, the owner of Grand River Brewery in Jackson, together with partners Justin Dalenberg and local resident Ken Heers, owner of Lenawee Fuels and Perky Pantry, has proposed purchasing the Hayden-Ford Mill building for a $1.3 million project following a request for proposals by the city to purchase or lease the building. Veritas Vineyard LLC, dba Grand River Brewery, was the only proposal submitted.

Burtka also founded Cherry Creek Winery, and Dalenberg is a business consultant and former chef who has joined him in other ventures. The three partners will also be opening a Doll n' Burgers restaurant at the East Chicago Boulevard Perky Pantry in the first quarter of this year.

Knitters Club shares comfort with cancer patients

By JACKIE KOCH
jackie@tecumsehherald.com

Four and a half years ago Tecumseh resident Donna Wilson started something that was meant to give comfort to those undergoing cancer treatment. Having lost her mother, an aunt, and her first husband to the disease, she had an understanding of what patients were going through, so she began the Knitters Club of Tecumseh to encourage others to join her in knitting and crocheting soft and comforting creations that would be donated to those patients.

When she was spending time with her first husband in the chemotherapy treatment room, there was a young woman there with a lap robe. "I spoke to her and she said, 'This has been terrible for me, but my friend made me this lap robe. It's brought me so much comfort and I take it everywhere I go,'" Wilson said. "At that point I got the idea that I'd like to make some items for people that were undergoing chemotherapy."

She went to the Tecumseh Senior Center and spoke to Director Kim Otto, who was quite pleased with the idea and told her she had been thinking of starting a knitting club there. "Word got around and we got a few ladies interested in it, and we have now produced over 4,000 items that have gone to chemotherapy patients," said Wilson.

The Knitters Club of Tecumseh meets at 9 a.m. the third and fourth Wednesday of each month at the center located at 703 E. Chicago Blvd. There are currently 12 members, and the club

BBQ and a Beer to help families with sick children

jackie@tecumsehherald.com

A fundraiser to be held Sunday, Feb. 9 by the Tecumseh Howard Hanna Real Estate office will raise money for a fund that helps the families of children receiving treatment at C.S. Mott Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor. The BBQ and a Beer event will be held at Evans Street Station and will include food, beverages, dessert, music, and a silent auction.

BBQ and a Beer co-chairs April Gunder and Bob Fox are both associate brokers at Howard Hanna Real Estate. They said the local office is in its seventh year of holding a fundraiser for the Children's Free Care Fund, which was started in 1983 by Howard Hanna CEO Hody Hanna in Pittsburgh. All of the Howard Hanna offices, which are located in Pennsylvania, New York, West Virginia, Ohio, Michigan, West Virginia and North Carolina, have a fundraiser each year to benefit children's hospitals. The real estate company has been able to donate more than $14 million to the cause.

"Wherever Howard Hanna has a unit they give money to children's hospitals, and so when they moved here they hooked up with Mott's Children's Hospital. The money goes to the families of the people who have children with devastating illnesses and that are hospitalized," said Gunder. "They're not working so they don't have money to pay their bills, their mortgage, a hotel to stay at. They have social workers at Mott's that manage the money." The Tecumseh event alone has raised between $11,000 and $15,000 each year for the fund. "Bob and I are trying to go over that this year," she said.

"It's basically us just giving back," Gunder said. "We've been doing it at Evans Street Station and that's where it is again this year. They charge us a minimal fee for the food. We're doing barbeque. Tecumseh Brewing Company is donating a beer for everybody that comes,

Last Sunday I was online, scrolling through a Facebook group I belong to, a group dedicated to supporting each other in managing financial issues. One of the younger women in the group posted something that said, "I find it very abusive to put pressure on men to provide us with a life we cannot provide for ourselves as women. As much as women are not rehabilitation centers for badly raised men, men are not poverty eradication plans for lazy women."

This seems to be telling women not to rely on a man for their financial security. I get that. But to use the word "lazy" in that context, especially after saying "a life we cannot provide for ourselves as women," is blind to the many factors that have put women in a position to look for supportive partnerships with men.

For most of history women could not make their own money, as I was reminded when I recently went to see the film "Little Women." The movie, based on the novel written by Louisa May Alcott, had two different time periods set seven years apart. One was during the start of the Civil War, which took place between 1861 and 1865, and the other was in 1868. It followed the lives of four sisters whose family struggled financially, starting while their father was off in the war.

One of the lines in the movie that really stood out for me was when Aunt March told Amy, one of the sisters, that it was up to her to "marry well" to save the family, meaning she had to marry a man with money so the family could survive. In another scene, Amy said that there was no way for her as a woman to make money, and even if she had a way, any money she had would belong to her husband. Even her children would belong to her husband, but not to her.

According to the library of Harvard Business School, during most of American history women's lives were controlled by marriage and property laws brought to North America by English colonists. Those laws stipulated that a married woman did not have a separate legal existence from her husband. A married woman was a dependent, like an underage child or a slave, and could not own property in her own name or control her own earnings, except under rare circumstances.

When a man died, his wife could not be the guardian to their underage children. Widows did have the right to property they brought into the marriage as well as to life usage of one-third of their husbands' estate.

Just last June was the 100th anniversary of the state of Michigan ratifying the 19th Amendment to the Constitution, which gave women in our state the right to vote. It took another year before the rest of the states got on board, giving women the same right as men to have a voting voice on August 18, 1920. That was only 100 years ago out of all of history.

Fifty years ago a woman couldn't get a loan without a man. Careers for women were limited. Yes, things have changed and women are much more able to take care of themselves now, but they still typically make less money than men with similar qualifications, and women of color make even less.

For most of history women HAD to rely on men to survive. In so many cases it's not for lack of hard work that women don't get ahead. It can be a real struggle to catch up when you come from behind, and most women never catch up.

I think some women ignore how women in generations before them had to fight to obtain their rights, because they only see from their current perspective. That perspective is naïve.

History is important because it helps us to truly appreciate the progress we have made, and allows us to see that society can change when people are determined to work toward bettering conditions for all.

The contributions that women could have made to society, if they had not been stifled by rules and laws that kept them second-class citizens, are losses that we'll never fully understand. Now we are moving forward. But let's not forget how far we had to come.

Red Cross urgently needs donors for critical type O blood shortage

The American Red Cross has extended its urgent call for donors of all blood types to give blood or platelets. With influenza escalating across the country and preventing some donors from giving, and winter weather threatening to cancel blood drives, the Red Cross now has a critical shortage of type O blood and urgently needs donors to restock the shelves.

Currently, the Red Cross has less than a three-day supply of type O blood available for patient emergencies and medical treatments. Type O positive blood is the most transfused blood type and can be given to Rh-positive patients of any blood type. While just 7% of the U.S. population has type O negative blood, it can be transfused to patients with any blood type and is what hospital staff reach for during emergencies when there isn't time to determine a patient's blood type.

Every day, the Red Cross must collect nearly 13,000 blood donations and more than 2,600 platelet donations for patients who rely on blood to survive. Shortfalls in donations can cause delays in essential medical care for patients like 12-year-old Dagan Hawkins.

Diagnosed with acute lymphoblastic leukemia in November, Dagan has required platelet and blood transfusions during his cancer treatments. "There was a time when they needed to have blood products delivered from another hospital because they were unavailable there," said Dustin Hawkins, Dagan's father.

Donors of all blood types, especially types O positive and O negative, are urged to make an appointment to give blood or platelets now using the Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting RedCrossBlood.org, calling 1.800.733.2767, or enabling the Blood Donor Skill on any Alexa Echo device.

Upcoming blood donation opportunities include January 24 from 9 a.m.-4:45 p.m. at ProMedica Bixby Hospital Meril-lat Center, 818 Riverside Ave., Adrian; January 28 from 8:15 a.m.-1:30 p.m. at Sand Creek High School, 6518 Sand Creek Hwy., Sand Creek; January 29 from 11 a.m.-4:45 p.m. at Siena Heights University, 1247 E. Siena Heights Dr., Adrian; January 31 and February 14 from 11 a.m.-4:45 p.m. at the Adrian Mall Center Court, 1357 S. Main St., Adrian; February 4 from 7:30 a.m.-1:15 p.m. at Onsted High School, 10109 Slee Rd., Onsted; and February 14 from noon-5:45 p.m. at Suburban Chevrolet, 1070 W. U.S. 12, Clinton.

All blood types are needed to ensure a reliable supply for patients. A blood donor card or driver's license or two other forms of identification are required at check-in. Individuals who are 17 years of age in most states or 16 with parental consent where allowed by state law, weigh at least 110 pounds and are in generally good health may be eligible to donate blood. High school students and other donors 18 years of age and younger also have to meet certain height and weight requirements.

Blood and platelet donors can save time at their next donation by using RapidPass® to complete their pre-donation reading and health history questionnaire online, on the day of their donation, before arriving at the blood drive. To get started, follow the instructions at RedCrossBlood.org/RapidPass or use the Blood Donor App.

City of Tecumseh's website redesign has fresh new look

marykay@tecumsehherald.com

Surf over to mytecumseh.org and discover a redesigned website that is more user-friendly and up to date. The city's website was 10 years old and Economic Development Director Jessica Sattler wanted to see a more dynamic introduction to all aspects of the city for people checking in at the site.

Although the new design is up and running, there is more to come, according to Sattler.

"There are new tools we didn't have before that we need the community's help to build out," Sattler said.

One new tool is a searchable business listing which can include the business name, summary of service offered, photos, address and phone number. All a business owner needs to do to be included is fill out the online form and submit it to the city.

Much of the information that required searching on the old website is on the first page now, simplifying the process for users. "We have a lot of information that you can access without making any clicks," said Sattler.

In addition to offering information about everything Tecumseh, mytecumseh.org also makes it easier to pay bills or apply for permits. At the top of the first page is a credit card icon that will take users to a secure payment area.

"It's much simpler to make tax and utility payments online," Sattler said.

Need a building permit? Not only are the applications for common permits available online, payments for the permits can also be made on the website.

For those interested in what city council is discussing at upcoming meetings, it's also easier to find and view the agendas. And once the meetings are over, minutes from the city council meetings are posted online.

"It's all right there," said Sattler.

The front page of the website also has an alert area that will update on emergencies immediately. From weather alerts to a water main break — mytecumseh.org will have all the information right away.

Looking for help from city departments? The new website lists the departments and people in the departments with contact information.

Economic Development has spearheaded the new design. "We want to make sure to keep up with the times and what our residents need," Sattler said. "The content editor is very user friendly. We have a great team here. We wanted department heads to be able to easily update with new information."

It's even possible to easily update the website from a smartphone, according to Sattler. This advancement eliminates time that's required when information is sent to one person in the city or to the web designers to get the website updated.

A new aspect of the website will directly support the Economic Development Office. The goal is to draw new business to Tecumseh by providing information that is of interest to site selectors. The website will list available properties in the city, provide demographic and industry data as well as marketing information about Tecumseh.

"This information is something we will continue to build out," said Sattler. "When site selectors are looking you don't always know they are looking. We wanted to be as proactive as we could about providing information. The more we do those updates the better the website scores in searches."

The new website has been up and running for almost a month. Sattler and her team wanted to evaluate how people responded to the new design.

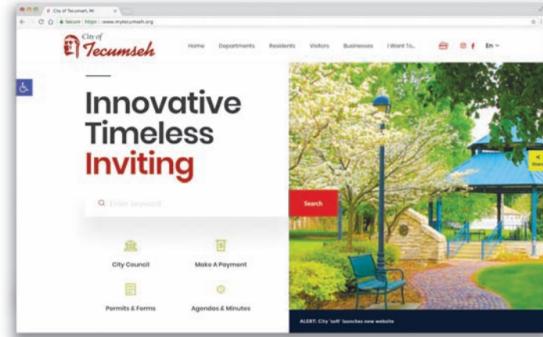

"We wanted to see who our regular users are," Sattler said. "We haven't had a single complaint."

Sattler will give a presentation on the new website at the next City Council meeting on February 5. "We are going to walk through some of the features," she said.

Even with the additional information, there is more to be done. The goal is to have a better calendar of events and a dynamic business listing to help visitors and residents find what they are looking for easily on a phone, tablet or computer.

"We are super happy about the new website," said Sattler.

ICE SCULPTURE FESTIVAL GOES ON DESPITE RAIN — Tecumseh's annual Ice Sculpture Festival went on as planned last weekend despite a rainy Saturday that followed a winter storm warning overnight. A total of 41 sculptures were created by Ice Creations of Napoleon, Ohio and are now in place on downtown sidewalks. The event included ice sculpture demonstrations, dueling carver competitions, family-friendly activities and more. Sunday's weather cooled down to help keep the sculptures from melting. Jonathan (l), Melissa and Wesley Timm of Tecumseh tried out the selfie snowmen made out of ice on Saturday during the festival.

Public invited to city award presentation as Redevelopment Ready Community

For their efforts in establishing a solid foundation to attract private investment and further build on municipality assets, the City of Tecumseh has been awarded the Redevelopment Ready Communities (RRC) certification, the Michigan Economic Development Corporation (MEDC) has announced.

The MEDC will formally present the award at 11 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 30 at a special event held at illuminaTe Dance and Arts Center and Jazzercise Tecumseh Fitness Center, located at 106 E. Chicago Blvd. There will be a short ceremony, followed by refreshments and networking with state and local officials and business leaders. Tecumseh joins 36 other Michigan communities that have qualified as "thoroughly prepared" when it comes to planning and zoning to remove traditional barriers and promote opportunities for prospective investors. The public is invited to attend.

Other nearby certified RRC communities include Hillsdale, Jackson and Ypsilanti.

As an RRC participant, the city of Tecumseh received a comprehensive assessment that measured current community and economic development practices compared to RRC best practice standards. The program evaluates and certifies communities that integrate transparency, predictability and efficiency into economic development practices. Certification status is a compelling indicator that a community has removed development barriers and streamlined processes to be more competitive and attractive to investors.

To reach certification

Tecumseh worked to improve upon numerous policies and processes. The city's efforts are highlighted by the creation of a community engagement plan, overarching marketing strategy and the development of flowcharts that clarify the steps in each of the city's development review processes.

"The City of Tecumseh was historically a company town and relied on a few industries for its success. With changes in our local economy, we are adapting to a new global business environment, implementation of new technologies, and the faster pace of decision making," said Tecumseh City Manager Dan Swallow. "The Redevelopment Ready Communities program was a great way to reaffirm our strategies and pick up some tips from best management practices."

Submissions now accepted for Square One Pitch

Local residents and entrepreneurs can submit their business ideas between now and February 21 for the chance to win a cash prize at the second annual Square One Pitch Event. Participants will have the opportunity to share their business idea with the community, earn feedback, and win the $2,000 D &

P Communication's Business Solutions award or the $500 Audience Choice award.

Lenawee Now will accept idea submissions online at squareoneidea.com until February 21. Once all submissions have been entered, the voting committee will review and select five finalists. Each finalist will have the opportunity to work with a pitch coach to refine their presentation. The finalists will then pitch their ideas to the judges and the audience at large at the event on April 2 at Cotton Brewing Company in Adrian. More information about the Square One event is available at squareoneidea.com.

Area students participate in day of service Monday

Honoring Martin Luther King Jr.'s legacy with a day of service is something the Lenawee Community Foundation's (LCF) Paula Trentman promotes through VOLUNTEER Lenawee. On Monday, Jan. 20, students from area schools, the Lenawee Youth Council and members of the Adrian Morning Rotary spent part of the afternoon packing weekend snack sacks for children in need who attend Adrian Public Schools.

According to LCF President and CEO Suann D. Hammersmith, volunteers pack around 370 weekend snacks every week, in bags that include pudding, applesauce, peanut butter or cheese crackers, cookies and a granola bar. School staff decides what children are in need of snack packs, and the Lenawee Intermediate School District Adult Transition Support Services Class delivers the snacks to the schools. LCF accepts donations for purchasing the snacks, and the Adrian Morning Rotary Club covers the cost that remains.

In addition, LCF provides supplies for snack packs at Madison Elementary School, where 315

snack sacks are created each week by students in the high school Interact Club.

City Council awards contracts for wastewater projects

By EMILY LITTLE
emily@tecumsehherald.com

The Tecumseh City Council voted Monday night to continue their efforts in the State Revolving Fund (SRF) wastewater investment. Dan Swallow, city manager, explained that the contract with Tetra Tech, the lead engineering firm, would be renewed through the fiscal year 2020.

"This is the continuation and next phase of the wastewater projects that we've been talking about for a few years now," Swallow said. "We obviously want our engineers overseeing those projects to make sure they are built to their specification."

Councilman Ronald Wimple expressed concern that the project was previously very slow and asked if this same contractor would be working with the city. Swallow reassured the council that the project would be completed at a faster rate with different contractors that will be dedicated to the project. He does not believe that the issues were the fault of Tetra Tech.

The approved proposal is not to exceed $136,000. This amount is within 10 percent of construction costs. This will allow Tetra Tech to perform construction staking, review materials by the contractors, administer construction contracts, perform part-time observation, complete drawings of the completed work, support the city with the SRF loan, and test sub-consultants. The proposal was approved unanimously.

In addition to renewing the proposal, the council also awarded contracts for the fiscal year to three contractors. This includes the wastewater treatment plant primary switch and transformer at $191,292, sewer rehabilitation at $449,415, and the Cyl-Tec Pump Station at $750,858. These contracts were awarded to J. Ranck Electric, Inc., Inland Waters Pollution Control, Inc., and Patriot Group Construction, LLC, respectively. These contracts were also approved unanimously by the council.

The project to replace pneumatic valve operators with electric operators was not recommended for approval by the city manager. Swallow said that the city did not receive favorable bids and they would continue to discuss this project with Tetra Tech.

Mayor Jack Baker thanked the city manager and the city council for taking the time to approve the proposals and contracts.

"I think it is further proof of the dedication and determination of this city to maintain proper water and sewer service for not only the businesses in the city but also our residents," Baker said.

Following the wastewater projects, city council voted to renegotiate the purchase agreement for the Hamblin Company building at 109 E. Logan St. After the Phase I environmental study of the property, used at one time for a dry cleaning business, there was a recommendation to conduct a Phase II environmental investigation.

"They will go into the area of the building where it was believed that there was a dry cleaner and check to make sure the soil under the building is not contaminated," Swallow said. "Obviously there is some cost associated with that."

Owner of the property, Ray Hamblin, has agreed to renegotiate the purchase agreement to offset the cost of the environmental investigation and allow for more time for this to be completed.

If the environmental investigation found that the soil on the property had been contaminated and the building could not be used, the city would be able to cancel the purchase agreement.

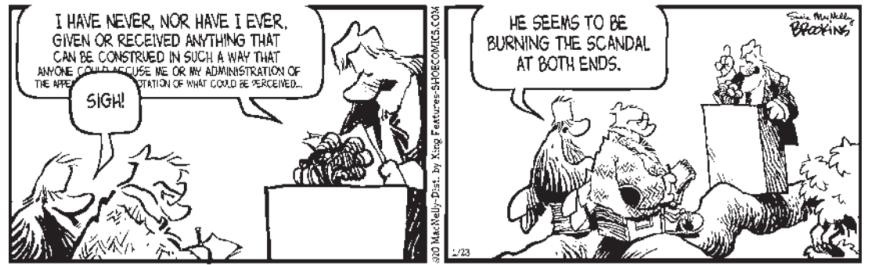

The motion was passed on a 5-2 vote. Councilmen Wimple and Gary Fox dissented.

"I was opposed to this purchase at the beginning," Fox said. "I appreciate the Hamblins' considerations, but I just don't think we should be building here."

The council also made appointments to the Election Commission, the Zoning Board of Appeals, and the Parks and Recreation advisory board, as well as the approval for the Top O' the Mornin' 5K Fun Run on March 14.

Mayor Jack Baker signed a proclamation at the beginning of the meeting in recognition of Martin Luther King Day on January 20.

TAVERN FROM 5A

Plans continue for tavern development. "These guys are pretty well-established developers," Sattler said.

At a Tecumseh City Council meeting in April, Burtka told council that the tavern's owners plan to create gross sales of $3,000,000 and hire a staff of 35-45, anticipating more than 150,000 unique visitors to their location each year.

Sattler said the purchase agreement is still in the works. "We're just in the final stages of hopefully coming up with a document that both parties can agree on," she said. "Once they have the purchase agreement they'll be able to move forward with trying to secure some incentives from the state and other places."

The Lenawee Department on Aging (LDA) will continue to operate the Senior Center at the Hayden-Ford Mill building until a sales agreement is reached for the building. On December 16, council approved a three-year lease renewal of Suite A inside the building for the center, which operates Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. If a sales agreement is reached for the building, the Senior Center will have three months to relocate. A 90-day termination clause was built into the lease agreement with the LDA.

City Manager Dan Swallow and LDA director Cari Rebottaro had ongoing discussions regarding alternative locations for the Senior Center.

and 3 Dudes and Dinner is providing desserts." There will also be a cash bar, and music will be provided by keyboard artist Jesse Morgan.

A silent auction will consist of items donated by merchants from the Tecumseh area, and a "booze wheelbarrow" filled by Howard Hanna agents with bottles of various spirits and beer usually brings in a substantial chunk of change, typically almost $1,000.

Tickets for the event are $60, of which $35 goes directly to the Children's Free Care Fund, and 100% of the fund goes to help the families.

Most of the Tecumseh Howard Hanna agents pitch in and help with the fundraiser. "It's just an outstanding event," said Fox. Gunder agreed. "It's a really good event. We both have been up to Mott's Children's Hospital where they explained what they do with the money," she said. "I used to be a pediatric nurse. It's just really hard on the families, so it's such a good cause."

The fundraiser will take place at Evans Street Station, 110 S. Evans St., from 5-7 p.m. Tickets are $60 and may be purchased by contacting Gunder at 517.403.3119 or Fox at 517.605.5206.

welcomes more. It is open to anyone willing to share their talents, and lessons are available for those with little or no experience. Those who are unable to come to meetings may knit, crochet or sew items at home for the cause. According to Wilson, some members are also creating quilts for patients.

The club gratefully accepts donations of clean worsted-weight yarn and other supplies such as cloth and knitting needles to help them create shawls, hats, slippers, mittens, lap robes and quilts. The completed items, which come with a tag that explains that the group has said prayers for the patients while creating them, are distributed to patients at the Hickman Cancer Center in Adrian, Ascension St. John Hospital in Detroit, and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital's Cancer Center in Ann Arbor.

Those who would like to donate to the club may call Diana Mead at 263.6221 or Wilson at 517.260.0305, or may drop items off at the senior center or call Otto at 423.5939.

"We've gotten a lot of feedback on it from the various places that we donate to, and it's really heartwarming because it's a win-win," Wilson said. "It's made so much difference in other people's lives, but it's also given us a purpose and it's delightful in our own lives, too, to do this."

Adding Section for Police Department

An expansion of the Tecumseh Police Department at city hall was approved by Council Monday night.

The addition, costing approximately $21,000 will be 28 feet by 12 or 13 feet, according to Cal Zorn, city manager. It will include two rooms and a basement.

Other remodeling in the department is also figured in on the total cost. Construction will start this spring.

Council approved the expenditure and authorized the city manager to have architectural plans drawn, and ones which would include a new fire station.

A new fire station is not planned at this time, but officials asked for plans which would place the station just north of the police department.

When a new station is built at city hall, officials will move the fire department there from its present barns on S. Evans St.

Mr. Zorn told Councilmen that police could handle all the fire calls at the city hall side for the firemen, and it would not be necessary to have full time firemen.

Architectural plans for a new fire station, however, will include future expansion quarters for full time firemen.

Two Closed by Gas Leak

A gas leak from a main line into the Gamble Store Wednesday morning not only forced that store to close and vacate but also Woolworth's next door.

Both stores were closed for approximately three hours, from 9:30 a.m. to almost 1:00 p.m.

Don Martin, owner, said he had noticed an odor and called Consumers Power. Company representatives checked the building and found the gas volume between 20% and 30%, ordered the store vacated and shut off power.

Workmen were still attempting to locate the leak early Wednesday afternoon, and both stores were still without power and heat.

Casey Family Appreciates House, Clothing, Money

"We're not complaining, everyone has been so nice and we have enough to get going again," Mrs. Raymond Casey said Wednesday morning.

The Caseys' home in Raisin Township was completely destroyed by fire last Wednesday morning. They are presently living at 105 Russell Rd. in a house owned by H. W. Tuttle Co., where Mrs. Casey is employed.

Her husband is employed when weather permits, with the Lenawee County Drain Commission but has difficulty in obtaining employment due to his health.

They had no insurance on their furniture, due to lack of steady employment and the expense of a family of seven.

"It's a matter of getting settled now," Mrs. Casey remarked, but when questioned further she admitted missing her washer and freezer very much. She said the house has facilities for a washer in the basement, and it would be much more convenient than taking large laundries out.

She bought some clothing for the three older boys and daughter, but two younger girls, sizes 7 and 10, could use some school dresses. Mrs. Casey needs size 16 slacks to wear to work.

The family is grateful for the kindness of the community, but is hopeful that they may find a residence in the Blissfield area so the children may return there to school and their friends.

Raisin Township firemen contributed clothing as did Tuttle employees and neighbors.

Dale Mitchell, Raisin fire chief, said his department did not keep track of the amounts given, but gave clothing and money to the Caseys as it came in.

Furniture, beds, and other household items came from both the Blissfield and Tecumseh areas.

Tecumseh police contributed $100, from monies raised by their annual policeman's ball, and clothes. City hall employees also contributed, and the Rev. Laszlo Gero of Gloria Dei Lutheran Church collected nine boxes of clothing.

BEHIND the COUNTER with
CARL LAMB
Tranquilizers — any time

Tranquilizers have become one of the most widely-accepted of the newer drugs, especially those used for non-psychotic patients who experience occasional anxiety. Whether or not a person receives these drugs is decided by his physician. But while tranquilizers are prescription drugs, the doctor has no control over the number of pills that a patient takes at any one time. If he ignored the doctor's orders, the patient may become "intoxicated" — drowsy, confused and irritable. He has impaired judgement and movement, and has difficulty in thinking clearly. He is more apt to get into a fight, or to be involved in an automobile accident. Tranquilizers have proven to be too valuable for them to be abandoned because of occasional abuse. They are widely accepted as safe, effective and non-addictive, when taken in small doses. The "major tranquilizers" have been helpful in treating mental illness. Others, who are not ill enough to be put in an institution, can function effectively with "minor tranquilizers." It is the patient's responsibility not to misuse this (or any other) prescription drug. He should consult his doctor if he intends to drive, drink alcoholic beverages or take other drugs while taking tranquilizers. And he should not attempt to refill the prescription without his doctor's instructions.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

Concerning the proposed construction of a new high school and conversion of the present high school into a three grade junior high school, I would like to make the following observations:

The January 8th Herald ran an article concerning construction of residential and commercial buildings in Tecumseh and noted that both have been minimal in the recent past. On the same page, a women's church social decided that one way to improve Tecumseh would be to publish the names and addresses of youthful offenders and their parents, presumably so they would be shamed into either moving away or reforming. I graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1962 and since returning from military service, have noted that less than 25% of my graduating class remains in Tecumseh.

From the above and other observations I would conclude that most young people who grew up here in Tecumseh fail to settle here, partly due to lack of economic opportunities and partly, I am sure, because of the lack of cultural and other social activities in the area. I believe Tecumseh is purposely geared to repress influx or retention of a younger, more liberal population.

Projected statistics concerning future 1970s elementary and secondary education enrollment that appeared in the U. S. News and World Report indicate that in most parts of the nation, such enrollment may actually decrease in the 1970s, with only higher (college) enrollment substantially increasing.

In view of my above observations and opinions, I believe enrollment on our schools will decline considerably in the next decade. In view of this reasoning, it would seem that construction of a new high school would not be practical or necessary at this time. As a matter of my personal opinion, it would seem that the rising costs (and deservedly so) of teacher salaries and educational services expansion of our schools demands that present allocations from property owners' taxes to be used for education will substantially increase, even with no population growth in our schools.

In essence, a new building will not necessarily mean a better school education-wise, and in the process of spending might mean a cutback or loss of professionalism in teaching faculty due to lack of funds for salary and benefit increase.

Then again, the rate of property taxation compared to services rendered in Tecumseh has never been favorable. Many cities of our size provide a comparable education with less tax dollars. I would suggest that improving the qualities of our school system takes priority over construction at this time to insure that more vocational and college preparatory quality is maintained.

I would urge parents, taxpayers and concerned citizens to attend the discussions on this matter at our various schools this week.

Robert E. LaPrad.

To the Editor
Dear sirs:

Our seventh grade health class has started a campaign to "Stamp Out" smoking, drinking, and drug addiction. Our slogan is "Save your body today for better health tomorrow." (We mean by this that millions of people who die of respiratory diseases and overdoses of pills and alcohol are senseless deaths that could and should be prevented). We feel that all girls and boys who do these things are heading for trouble. That means the vital organs of the body are on their way to being destroyed permanently.

We are making posters, buttons, and skits to show at our school. Harvey Jackson is our health teacher. He is letting us express ourselves in many different ways. We are trying to warn the public about smoking, drinking, and drug addiction. We are letting people know how we feel.

Most people who think of our age group automatically think of hippies and addicts, but we are trying to show that the seventh grade class of Onsted High is a class that cares about our health. We want to try to keep people from making a big mistake; a mistake that causes much grief, sorrow, destruction, and death.

Help us fight this problem. Back our campaign and stamp out this useless destruction. We want to talk with you and show you what we are doing to stamp out this problem. Please contact us in the near future. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely yours,

$2,000 Theft Is Reported at Clinton

Theft of more than $2,000 worth of sound equipment from Clinton High School is being investigated by State Police.

Apparently removed from the building during the holiday vacation, the loss was discovered when school resumed.

Taken were tape recorders, amplifiers, speakers, tapes, microphones and janitor's tools. A window was broken and the head of the timpani drum was smashed.

Some of the missing items have been recovered, and local youths are being questioned.

Clinton wrestlers travel to Grand Rapids for round robin tournament

The tournament at Grand Rapids Forest Hills on January 18 was a round robin format and the Redskins won 3-1 for the day. The wrestling started with a win over Allendale 47-23. The second round was against host Forest Hills Eastern and the Redskins prevailed 56-15. The third round was against Division 1 (No.5 rated) Bedford Mules.

The dual started off in the right direction with three straight wins, giving a lead to Clinton of 11-0, but that would be the end of the good news as Bedford got on a roll and won the next nine matches (two by forfeit) before Brayden Randolph stopped the skid with a pin. Bedford won the final match to make the score 48-17.

Clinton then finished the day with a win over Comstock Park 72-12. Connor Busz, Randolph, Logan Badge, and Jack Voll all went 4-0. Brenden Keith finished 3-0. Landis Gillman, AJ Baxter, Spencer Konz and Ryan Phillips went 3-1. Ethan Younts, Chase Packard and Noah Deshano had two wins. The Redskins are now 22-2 for the season.

The D4 No.1 ranked Redskins will head to Lowell this weekend for a huge undertaking. Lowell is currently ranked No. 2 in Division 2. Division 1 No. 2 Davison and Division 3 No. 1 Dundee will also be there. All three are nationally ranked.

The Redskins will wrestle Lowell at 7 PM on Friday night. Saturday starts at noon with Clinton taking on Dundee followed by the Clinton-Davison immediately after.

Clinton wrestling hosted the TCC duals on Wednesday, Jan. 15 for senior night and came away with two wins. Clinton won the first one against Sand Creek 71-6 before beating Madison 78-6. Busz, Younts, Chase Packard, Gillman, Nate Darm, Baxter, Keith, Deshano, Randolph, Voll, and Ryan Phillips all went 2-0 for the night. Zak Shadley and Rourke Solomonson went 1-0 each. Taylor Randolph and Cole Brighton went 1-1.

CHS GIRLS BASKETBALL — Clinton's Libbi Fair (10) goes in for a lay-up against the Summerfield Bulldogs Tuesday, Jan. 21. The Redskins lost to the Bulldogs 39-33. Juniors Emily Gilroy and Fair each scored 10 points for the Redskins.

Tecumseh bowling boys and girls team recap

Tecumseh's first bowling match of 2020 was against Chelsea on January 9. The varsity boys lost to Chelsea, arguably the best team in the SEC, 27-3. Chelsea took a 10-0 lead after the Bulldogs rolled Baker games of 279 and 233. Junior Nate Ewing pitched a 203 game to help the Tribe's cause. The Tecumseh varsity girls team had no problem dispatching the lady Bulldogs 30-0. The lady Tribe brought a team effort to secure the win. Both JV teams earned victories. Junior Devin Macomber's 200 game led the JV boys to a 25-5 win. The JV girls 30-0 win was lead by sophomore Abby Werden's two games of 166.

The Tribe sent all four teams to the Mark Voight Invitational Tournament January 12. The tournament was comprised of approximately 90% Division 1 teams so it proved to be a great test for all the teams. Each team made the cut and earned experience. Both the girls teams came away with medals and trophies as each team finished second. In addition to the team success, there were individual medalists with both Werden and Hudson Rains earning top three finishes.

The second match against the Vikings of Jackson saw the Indians come away with three wins. The lady Tribe earned another 30-0 win. The girls rolled two Baker games of 187 and 222. Junior Liza Verrier led the girls in the individual games with a strong 233 game. The varsity boys earned a 28-2 win over their Viking counterparts. Junior Jack Burnett fired two robust games of 198 and 225. Junior Connor Otto was right there with him with his games of 189 and 202. The JV boys earned a 30-0 win on the back of a 213 Baker game. Seniors

Noah Kormos and Aaron Warner tossed games of 171 and 192 respectively.

Monroe visited Ten Pin Alley January 16 and had a good day against the varsity Tribe teams. The Trojans earned a 23-7 win over the varsity boys of THS. It was tight after the Baker games, but then Monroe got hot. Monroe had individual games of 225 and 276 that helped take the first set of individual games. Burnett bowled well with his games of 191 and 200, but it wasn't enough to get past the Trojans. The lady Tribe also fell to the lady Trojans 19.5-10.5. Again it was close after the Baker games, but Monroe captured the next seven points to bring the match to even. Monroe kept the heat on and won the second set of individual games to close out the win. Senior Taylor Randolph led the lady Tribe with games of 231 and 192. Both the JV Tribe teams came away with victories. Junior CJ Herron had a big 220 game and freshman Andrew Rowe threw a 193 game in the boys victory. Sophomore Abby Werden pitched a 231 game to lead the JV lady Tribe to their victory.

BD boys b-ball wins first game of season

The Britton Deerfield boys varsity basketball team (1-6 overall and 0-4 league) hosted the Sand Creek Aggies Tuesday, Jan. 21. The Patriots came out on top of Sand Creek 73-54.

BD hosted the Morenci Bulldogs on Friday, Jan. 17 and lost a close conference game 43-42. Leading scorer for BD was Cole Shiels with 22 points and Jacob Delmotte with 12.

THS boys basketball loses by 1 to Jackson

On Friday, Jan. 17 the Tecumseh boy's varsity basketball team lost to Jackson, 50-49.

"That was a great high school basketball game. It really stings that we lost," said Assistant Coach Chad Dunigan. "Credit to Jackson, they made one more play than we did. But when it comes down to it if we play with that consistent toughness and discipline we will win games." Tecumseh will host Pinckney Friday, Jan. 24 at 7 p.m.

THS girls basketball back-to-back wins

Tecumseh girl's varsity basketball team traveled to Jackson on January 17 to win, 35-31.

Head Coach Kristy Zajac commented on the game, "These girls found a way to win tonight when nothing seemed to go their way. It was a tough game as we couldn't find a groove or hit any shots. Eva Alcock led all scorers with 18 points. Tecumseh moves to 8-1 on the season."

On January 14 the Tecumseh girl's defeated Lincoln 52-22.

The girls held Lincoln scoreless in the first quarter taking the 12-0 lead. They had another big quarter in the third, outscoring Lincoln 16-6. Alcock led all scorers with 18 points, four steals and three rebounds. Hailey Dennis added 14 points, five rebounds and three steals. Senior Kylah Abbott added nine points, four steals and four assists and Riley Chenevey added nine points and three steals.

times included Josh Trefry in the 50-yard freestyle with a time of 33.18 and Harris in the 500-yard freestyle with a time of 6:19.14.

The Tecumseh boys will next compete against Saline and Pinckney at Saline High School on Thursday, Jan. 23 at 6 p.m.

Tecumseh-Manchester sweeps vault in South Central Gymnastics meet

On Thursday, Jan. 16 the Tecumseh-Manchester gymnastics team traveled to Saline for a South Central Gymnastics League meet. Team 19 posted a season high team score of 125.8, but came up short of a win to the Hornet's 132.25 taking the team to 1-1 in the SCGL, 2-1 overall.

Tecumseh-Manchester swept vault with freshman Jordyn Wright winning the event (8.7), junior Haley Talicska in second (8.65), followed by senior Dani Macomber in third (8.6). Sydney Brown (8.35), Emma Taylor (8.05), and Kalli VanBogelen (7.95) all picked up regional qualifying scores on the event.

Wright took second on bars (7.7) while Brown (7.125), Talicska (6.925), Macomber (6.725), and Taylor (6.725) earned regional qualifying scores.

The team hit five of its six beam routines with Wright scoring the highest (8.125). Brown (7.65), Taylor (7.65), and VanBogelen (7.6) rounded out the team score with their regional qualifiers.

Wright was third on floor (8.775) with Macomber (7.875) also earning regional qualifying. Ann Arbor's gymnast Emily Greene finished the night with an all around score of 26.925, earning regional qualifying on vault (8.2).

Lenawee United Hockey falls to SEC White Division rivals Pinckney Pirates

Lenawee United knew their inaugural season would present many challenges within conference play and the January 15 meeting with the Pinckney Pirates team was no exception.

The Pirates claimed a 9-1 victory over their SEC White Division rivals in a game that was a complete opposite of the first meeting of the season between the two teams when Pinckney rallied for a tight 3-1 win at Lenawee on December 12.

Pinckney jumped out to a 2-0 lead after the first period, added four more in the second frame, and then added three in the third period.

Lenawee's Kaden Morton (Lenawee Christian) notched a power play goal at 6:21 of the third period on a feed from Joe Drewry (Lenawee Christian). It was one of a few bright spots for the Blueshirts.

Goaltender Keegan Reau turned aside 36 of 45 shots faced, including a penalty shot awarded to Pinckney early in the third.

Pinckney was led by Sebastian Smith's six-point effort (3g, 3a) and converted on all four of their power play opportunities.

Lenawee United is now 6-8-0 overall and 0-5-0 in the SEC White Division.
